

Art – Lesson 2.

Last week in art, we looked at and sketched our own under the sea images. We thought about what we might find if we went scuba diving in the oceans.

This weeks task is about shading light and dark. The image I want you all to create is a sea shell. This can be any shape/size you desire. As this is shading, you must not use colours and only use pencil.

Think about where light might be hitting the seashell as this would create shade and shadows on the shell itself.

Take a look at the images of these seashell for some inspiration.

Please upload your images to your own portfolio pages, this way I can reply and mark your work all at once!
